課程簡介 Course Description	This course is intended for Non-Major freshmen with intermediate English competence. Four skills (speaking, listening, reading, and writing) will be emphasized and practiced through in-class reading/speaking activities, listening practice, video watching, writing assignments, and oral presentations. In order to accomplish the general goals, the emphasis is on students' language fluency rather than accuracy. The course will be conducted primarily in English.
課程目標與學習 成效 Goals & Learning Outcomes	This course aims to prepare the students to be able to use their general knowledge about the world to understand and communicate in English. The general goals are to provide an atmosphere that will increase students' participation in a comfortable environment, increase their confidence in English speaking contexts, and increase their ability to apply the knowledge of the English language they have acquired in high school.

準 (1) Preview Assignments (10%): For every assigned reading in Reading Expl	rer 4,
Course each group needs to find one difficult or complicated sentence and come u	p requirements/Gradi with one discussion question based on the reading or the video (as shown	on ng standards Moodle). Your sentences and questions should be posted on wiki (Collabo Writing) on Moodle before class .
(2) Group Discussion (20%): In class you will have time to discuss one quest	ion designed by another group, take notes of your answers, and add them to you wiki on Moodle within one week after the class.	, (1)
(3) Group Presentation (70%): Each group will take turns giving a 15-minute presentation on an assigned topic based on a video clip. In your presentati you need to briefly introduce the person(s) and main issues involved in the	; assigned topic, and give your own comments and reflections on the topic/video. You need to post the content of your Group Presentation on w on Moodle by the midnight of your presentation date. Each member shoul have a chance to speak on stage. *Your presentation will timed, and points	will be deducted if your presentation exceeds 15 minutes. Self-evaluation and peer-evaluation among group members will be adopted in company with t	ne teacher's evaluation. Another pre-assigned group will give comments on y	our presentation.
(4) Each group member needs to fill out the form of "Self-and-Peer Evaluation	n of Group Project Teamwork" and submit it to Moodle by due date (December
5. Cross-cultural Communication Tasks: You are required to preview 3	- /- 2

	cross-cultural communication lecture videos online (http://moocs.nccu.edu.tw) and complete the following tasks outside classroom by due dates:
	(1) Checkpoint Quizzes: Finish the online checkpoint quiz of each unit by due dates. You can do the quizzes at most twice; the better score will count toward your Quizzes in your final grade. Late submission is not allowed because the quize system will be closed by due time.
	(2) Oral Response to Discussion Questions: After you preview the lecture videos of each unit, you need to record your oral response to the assigned question(s) in the Discussion & Resources of each unit, and submit your recordings to Moodle by due dates. *Late submission will lead to lower grades of your oral assignment.
	• Unit 1 Hofstede's Cultural Dimensions: #2 required+ one self-selected question from Discussion
	• Unit 2 Stereotypes: #2 required + choose one video from Resources and summarize the video or give your own comments on it • Unit 3 Education: #4 required + any question or item selected from Discussion and Resources to answer or comment on *Make sure you begin each of your recording with your Chinese name, student number, unit and question numbers. For example: "My name is 張小明. My student number is 106xxxxxx. I'm going to answer Unit 1, question 2" *Before you submit oral recordings to Moodle, rename your files with your Department, Chinese name, student and unit numbers. For example: "教育一張 小明 1061234567 (Unit 1)"
	6. Final Exam: The Final Exam will include Vocabulary, Video Clip, Reading Comprehension, and Essay Questions. Vocabulary and Video Clip questions will primarily come from practices in Reading Explorer 4. Reading Comprehension articles will be related to but not the same as the readings in our textbook. Essay Questions will come from critical thinking questions in our textbook as well as the questions from Preview Assignments.
教材課本	1. Reading Explorer 4, Second Edition, Heinle Cengage Learning (2014).
